Notes:

- 1. Jet Provost XN584 is newly installed with the University of South Wales (USW) Aerospace Centre at Treforest, Glamorgan.
- 2. Former RAF Hercules XV303 departed to Canada as C-FNUL on 22 November 2015. XV214/C-FNUM is expected to follow shortly while XV295 may be involved in the same deal as a spares source. Additionally, another machine, XV295, has recently acquired what appear to be false marks as 8X-CZ and is reported to be headed to Austria for spares use in December.
- 3. Despite being widely reported as iHC3 when the interim Merlin HC3 conversion project was first reported, it appears that it is being referred to as the HC3i in military service.
- 4. Sea King HAR3A ZH542 flew from Chivenor to Belgium on 24 November to be used as a spares ship for the Belgian Sea King fleet while ZH540 and ZH543 have gone to Norway in a flyable condition. ZH541 is due to go to Kjeller for spares in December while ZH544 was ferried to Gosport on 26 November but it also reported to be for Norway.
- 5. The long awaited 2015 Strategic Defence & Security Review was published on 23 November 2015 and, among the details were the announcement of an order for nine P-8A Poseidon aircraft, to be based at RAF Lossiemouth, plans for another F-35 squadron and two more Typhoon squadrons, all for the RAF, while the Army was not ignored with the announcement that 50 of its Apaches will be reworked to AH-64E Apache Guardian status.
