Notes:

1. Sadly most readers will have seen of the demise of Sea Fury T20S VX281 on 28 April. It is a relief that the crew escaped with their lives but the sad state of the airframe now suggests that anyone trying a rebuild will be looking at significant expense.
2. Hard and fast evidence has recently come to light that the Buccaneer front fuselage at the South Yorkshire Aircraft Museum hitherto thought to be XN979 is indeed a test rig and not from the original airframe.
3. Not listed here (as they are yet to move) is the fact that Wessex XS507 and Tornado ZA612 have both been acquired by the South Wales Aviation Museum at St Athan. They should move within the next few months.
4. Thanks to some sleuthing by Ben Sadler, most of the former Hurstbourne Tarrant/Bourne Park residents have turned up at two sites.
5. The arrival of Gazelles XZ340 and ZA731 at Fleetlands currently leaves 29 Flt minus any aircraft but at present this is thought to be just a temporary measure.
